WHO PUT THE BOMP? THE STORY OF DOO WOP

Join music archivist and former Bay Area broadcaster John Jensen as he takes us on a lighthearted but informative musical journey to find the answer to not only who put the bomp in the bomp bah bomp bah bomp, but who put the ram in the ram a lam a ding dong. Through rare photos, film and audio clips we see and hear how early close vocal group harmonizing developed into an art form that became part of mainstream rock 'n' roll during the 1950s and 60s. Along with your favorites you'll hear rare studio outtakes and alternate recordings that will demonstrate how this exciting and enjoyable musical style came into being and flourished during those years.
